

THE CITY OF SAN DIEGO

Uptown

Historical Resources Survey

Open House

Please join Jennifer Hirsch and Cathy Winterrowd from the Historical Resources Section of City Planning & Community Investment on Wednesday, June 30, 2010 from 6:00PM to 7:30PM in the Santa Fe Room of the Balboa Park Club for an informal discussion of the current status and findings of the historic survey. There will be ample time for your questions and comments and for you to discuss with staff the important history and historical resources that define Uptown.

This is not a Community Plan Update Advisory Committee meeting but rather an opportunity for the public to inform the historic survey. Preservation planning standards and the City's General Plan recognize the importance of community participation in the success of a historic survey. Our goal is to generate a broad base of local interest and involvement in the survey while we are still in the early stages of its preparation.

Staff will share the latest information that has been generated for both the historic context and the field work portions of the survey and discuss the anticipated schedule. Information about potential conservation areas has not been developed at this stage and will be the subject of future stakeholder meetings.

We are particularly interested in learning more about the following topics:

- What historic theme(s) are important to the development of Uptown?
- What do we need to know about the people and events that shaped the history of Uptown?
- What historically significant individual properties and districts in Uptown should we know about?

If you have questions, please contact Jennifer Hirsch at jhirsch@sanidiego.gov or 619-533-4543.
